Hail to thee
 our Carlsbad High School,
 Long remember you.
 All the joys and friends
 we've known here
 Last a lifetime through.
 We'll remember all the heartaches,
 all the vict'ries too.
 To thee we will pledge allegiance,
 Carlsbad High, it's you.

We said these words often, but did we ever stop to think about what we were saying or how true these words were? High School days were to be the best times of our lives. It was the time to root our football team onward, even at below zero temperatures. We went to pep rallies, and we shoe polished our cars for the caravans. We celebrated when we won and shared tears as we lost vision of that touchdown that never crossed the line.

We, the Cavemen, were lucky. We had the opportunity to make these memories at one of the most unique schools in this state. With our college campus styled architecture, we walked leisurely to classes, enjoying fresh air. Where could you find a school with a beautiful courtyard with our mascot, Rusty, standing to show spirit? What other school had a water fountain where everyone threw their pennies, wishing that cute guy or girl would smile their way? Who else had the "wall" where the seniors hung out to be cool and that sophomores avoided because of the rumors they heard about the "initiation" into CHS? How many schools did you see with murals instead of graffiti? Did any others have huge painted rocks around the school, representing different clubs and the seniors?

Where would we go on that special night to watch the sunset or look at the town lights if it weren't for C-Hill? That big blue "C" and graduating year beside it seemed to exclaim that we were the best, the Cavemen, the senior class of CHS.

The Echo staff would like to dedicate the 1988 yearbook to our school ... HAPPY 25th CARLSBAD HIGH SCHOOL!

(1) The one and only courtyard. (2) CHS has got the murals. (3) Are those supposed to be our studs on the wall? (4 and 5) Waiting for the bell? (6) Is this a fire drill, or are all of you skipping? (7) Robbie, I didn't know you were a cheerleader.

SHIRT CRAZE 1987

10

Casual, easy-going shirts with cartoon characters or brand names were "the" attire this year. Corona hats, Spuds MacKenzie, Gumby, and Coca Cola shirts were typical of the many "logos" seen on campus.

(1) Scott loves plaid. (2) Robert looks like Buckwheat. (3) Michelle is so "fetish". (4) We don't have to "Guess" about Yvette! (5) Brian is Ollie North's campaign manager. (6) Michele is "bearably" stylish. (7) Sergio can't see his logo! (8) David and Chessa dress alike. (9) Mr. Evans and Rick are wearing the latest hats?! (10) Lisa loves USA. (11) Variety is what the seniors like. (12) Martin and Kevin are the shirt studs. (13) Jason and Aaron wear their favorites, too. (14) Mark and Chris like the casual look. (15) Chris loves Gumby.

HOMECOMING

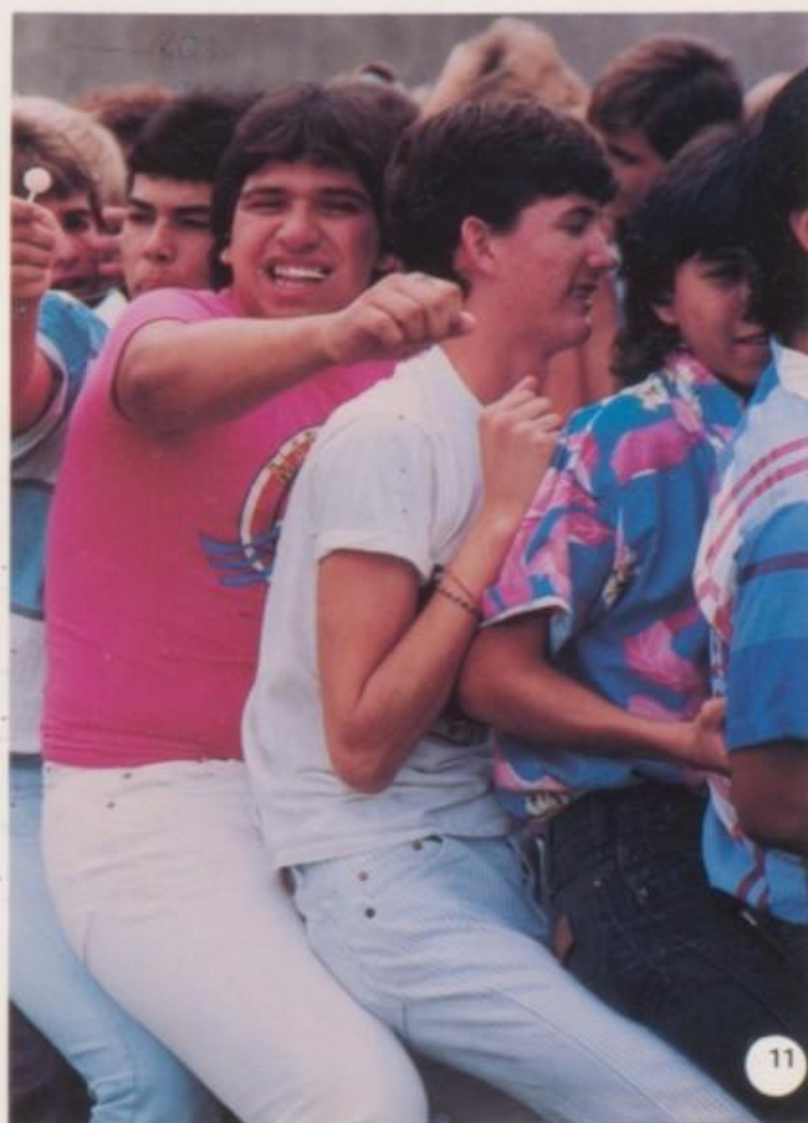

(1) Coach Winter's homecoming pride. (2) Mrs. Wilson's homeroom wants to club the Rockets. (3) Mr. Grimes' class is really rocking now. (4) A pep assembly starts the week off with spirit. (5) Homecoming is always a famous date in CHS history. (6) French Club toasts to a CHS victory. (7) Kevin's ahead of them all. (8) The tourists are here in force. (9) Donna's checking someone out! (10) Tan and Tanya go to the '50s sock hop. (11) Donna's got an Excedrin headache. (12) Dara and Kevin are on their way to Hawaii.

(1) Martin, your hat's too big for you to stand up! (2) What has happened to the class of '88? (3) Hey guys, here are some real beauties! (4) These are the most fashionable lunch boxes at CHS. (5) Robert's headin' out for the prairie. (6) Julie's turn is next, Lisa. (7) The girls show the guys who is best in the lap sit games. (8) Steve is going for a little spin. (9) Senior guys know who is Number One! (10) The one and only sack race has lots of participants. (11) This is a "smashing" ride.

Viva La Celebration

Celebrations were everywhere. Our Constitution was two hundred years old. New Mexico has been a state for seventy-five years. Carlsbad was one hundred this year. And, this "new" high school is twenty-five years old! 1987-88 Homecoming honored these anniversaries during a week long celebration.

(1) Welding and ICT received the blue ribbon for their float in the parade. (2) French Club "Cheers to you!" (3) Take a look at Cavemen Football history. (4) Donna and Dara are two very happy girls. (5) Cavemen Cheerleaders show their spirit for the team. (6) Tim Carter sings our National Anthem. (7) The crowd anticipates the crowning. (8) Swing Choir performs for us. (9) Newest Cavemen Hall of Fame members are Mike Forest, Mari Forbes and Mark Jackson. (10) Who will fill these six chairs?

H O M E C O M I N G 8 7

(1) '87-88 Homecoming Candidates: Dara Martin, Kathy Jones, Donna Anaya, Kyle Freeman, and Katy Estrada. (2) Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. Lynn received thanks for putting Homecoming together. (3) The Modern Dancers. (4) Strutt.

(1) 4th place runner-up: Steve Coy and Kathy Jones. (2) 3rd place runner-up: Matt Kelley and Kyle Freeman.

(3) 2nd runner-up: Brant Lunsford and Donna Anaya. (4) 1st place runner-up: Bryan Perrin and Dara Martin.

A Dream Come True

"A dream comes true, a day in heaven." That describes September 18, 1987 for CHS Homecoming Queen Katy Estrada and King Eric Chavez. The week began with "tourists" roaming the campus. Nerds, the fifties and Western day rounded out the week as CHS students dressed up for that special day. Lunch activities heightened our spirit for this unusually early Homecoming.

(1) The Queen and King are all smiles. (2) Katy's overwhelmed with joy. (3) Take a stroll down the red carpet. (4) Salute! (5) Swing Choir honors you. (6) South Academic building. (7) Center building. (8) Our own Rusty (9) Yvonne's all smiles. (10) Jessica and Eric wear traditional homecoming corsages. (11) Robert, Larry and Adam dress up for Friday. (12) Sophomores catch the Cavemen spirit, too!

Brant thinks he is pushing "Big Bertha."

As the season began many questions arose concerning Cavemen during the new unfolding season. Who was going to replace Jimmy Mitchell, All-State running back last year? Also questions arose over the offensive line where no lettermen returned.

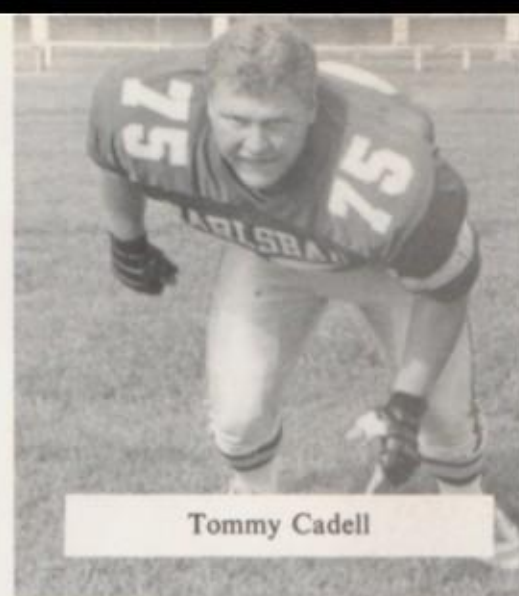

The Cavemen entered into the new season with hopes. As it turned out, their inexperience was not evident: The score was 35-0, our favor.

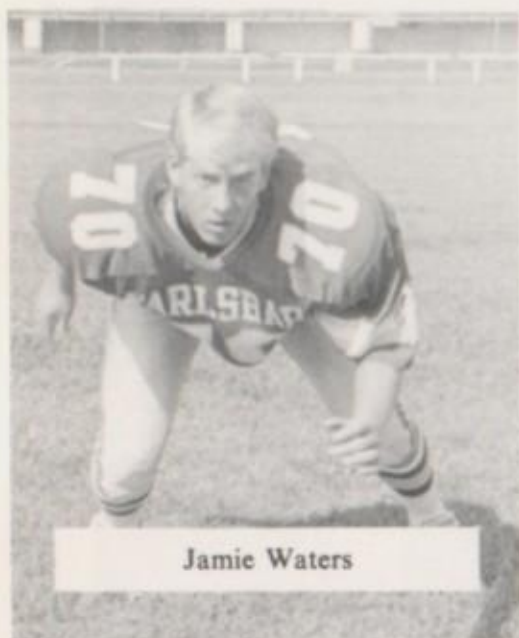

Kenneth Julian

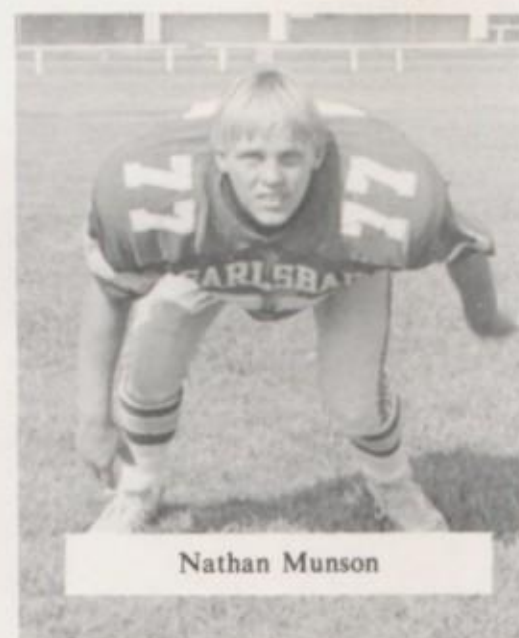

Frank isn't to sure what to do with the ball.

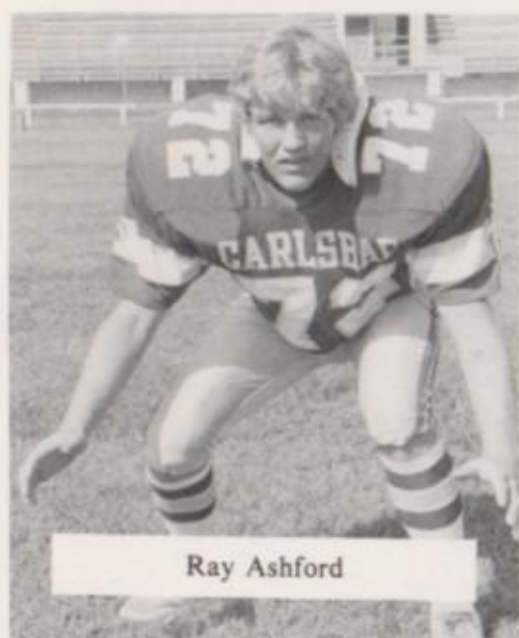

Tommy Cadell

Nathan Munson

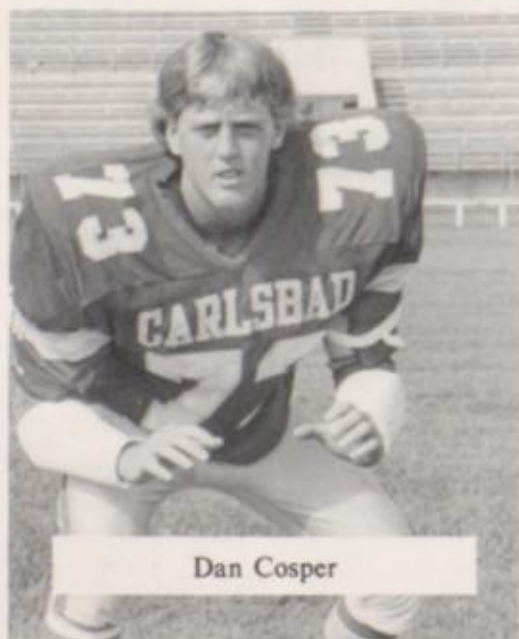

Ray Ashford

Red Rover, Red Rover, we won't let you come over.

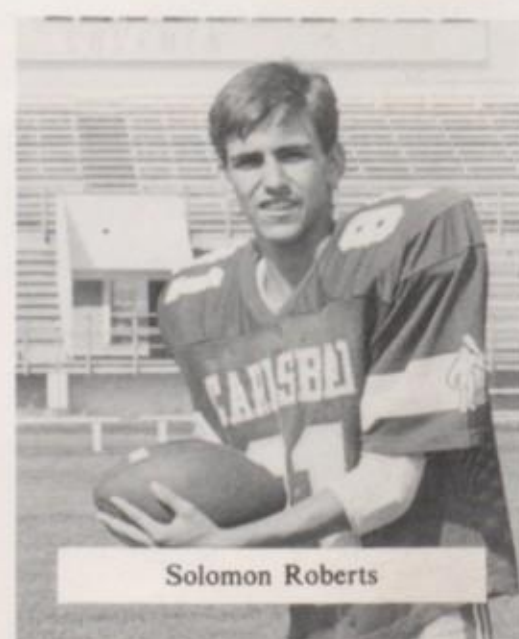

Phil Carrell

Dan Cosper

If I'm going down you're coming with me.

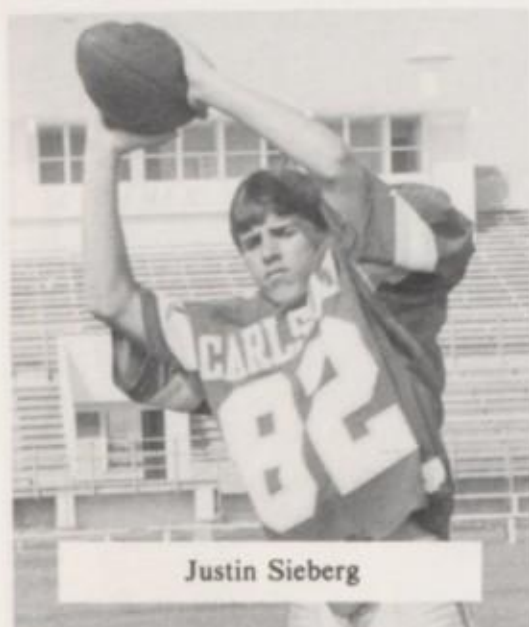

Solomon Roberts

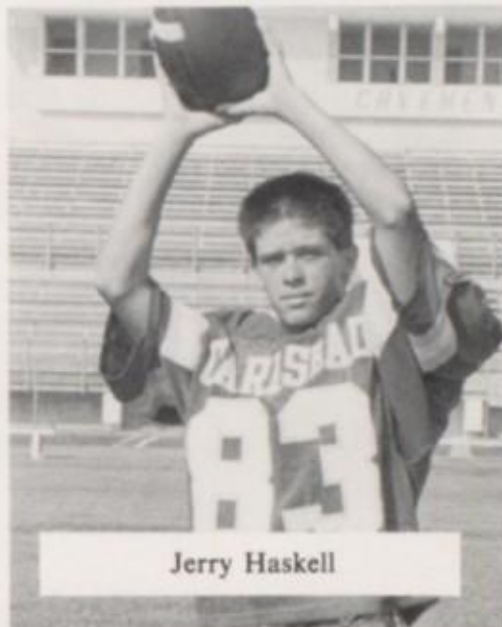

I think they gotcha, Brant.

The second game, the Cavemen journeyed to El Paso to take on the even tougher Andress Eagles. The Cavemen built up an impressive 12-0 lead before the sky was filled with bolts of powerful lightning, which knocked the lights out. As the lights came on, our Cavemen went off fumbling in the last 30 seconds, letting the Eagles score a touchdown, winning 13-12.

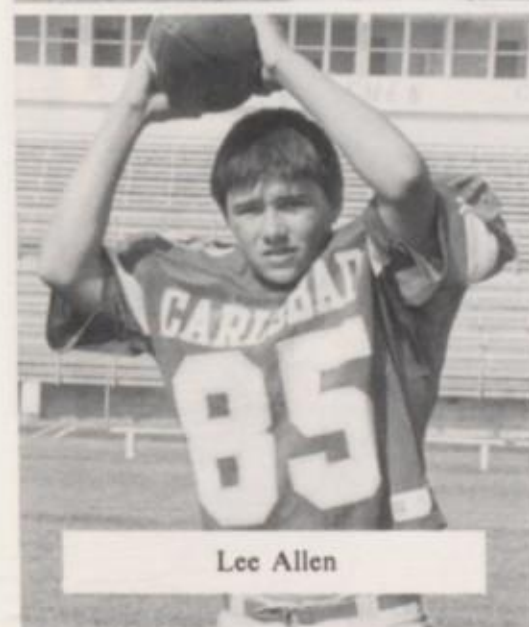

It took 6 years but the Cavemen prevailed with a win to Pecos. The only score came when "fleet foot" Mike Treadaway rambled 88 yards; the result was a touchdown.

Get 'em, Shane!

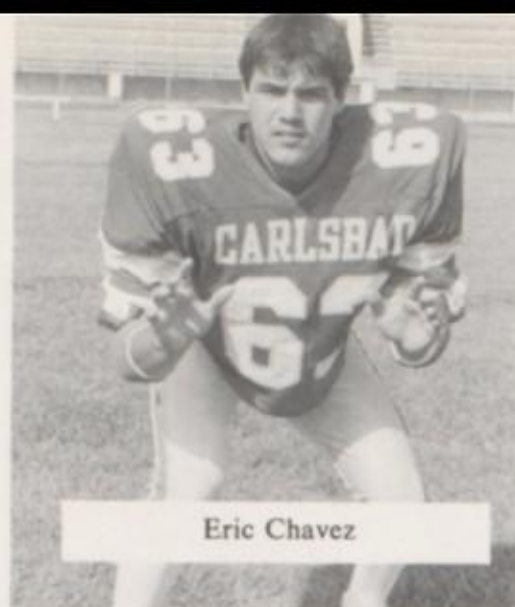

The continuation of the annual Eddy County Championship was once again a "dog" fight. However the Cavemen used strategy on defense to stall the offensive machine of the Bulldog attack, while offense scored enough to win, 12-6.

As the Cavemen traveled in their season they came upon Highland. The Cavemen took them on that Saturday night. The Cavemen offense, oiled and primed, rammed through their defense. The final outcome was Cavemen 27, Highland 13.

After traveling 590 miles up north, the Cavemen needed the heroics of the "Blond Bomber" Frank Sifford to ice the victory over the Scorpions, 27-19.

Mike Treadaway

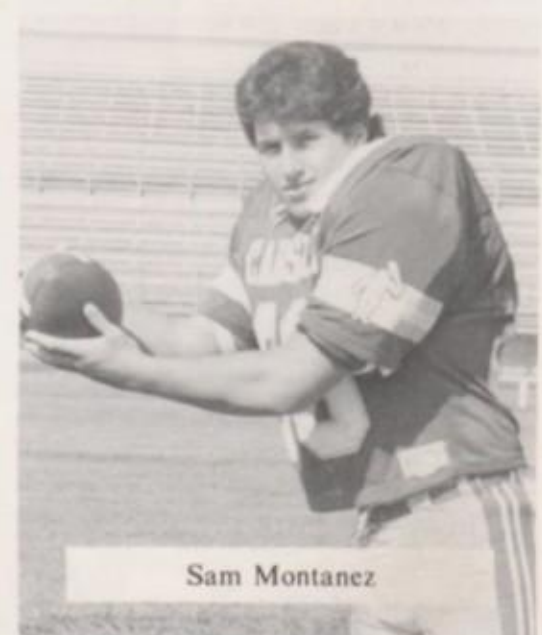

Are you trying to be sly, Mike?

Shane Pittman

Sam Montanez

There goes another Pecos guy.

Everything was clicking as the Cavemen opened up district with a convincing 33-7 win. This was the most offensive production of the season with Brant Lunsford, Frank Sifford, and Shane Andrews scoring from all over the field.

In one of the most exciting high school games this year, Clovis offense scored 10 points before Cavemen realized what was going on. Then the offensive machine of the Cavemen began moving the ball and more importantly, controlling the clock on the final drive of the night the Cavemen took the ball over the 21 with 7:50 left on the clock. Then 76 yards later and 0:04 seconds left the Cavemen lined up for the go-ahead field goal. As the clock ticked off the referee raised his hands and the Cavemen rejoiced, the fans went crazy, and Shane Andrews was crushed with enthusiasm!

Football

Junior varsity football ... Have you ever even stopped to think exactly how important these guys are? They are the unknowns, the ones who have always been good, but can't have their fame recognized until they become the real thing, the Cavemen. Many people don't give our JV team the recognition that they deserve. Who goes to watch them play? How can one expect a team to do their very best when they have no support. Sure, they get pats on the back for a job well done, but what else? This year the Cavemen Junior Varsity team had a win-loss record of 5-3. It's time we start saying, "Hey, you guys are great. When is your next game?" Let's all go root on our guys. That's right, JV is still our guys, and we appreciate them. Many of these guys had to be tough enough to play their games on Thursday, turn around and suit out for varsity on Friday night. That takes a lot of guts and determination. At the end let's say, "JV, thanks for a job well done."

This year something new arrived at CHS. Our big, bad, blue started a team for just the sophomores. This didn't restrict sophomores from trying out for varsity level. The team was mostly for those who not yet have been in football, but wish to play. It prepares the guys to "grow up," before they take the stand as the real Cavemen. For a team like this, it takes a good coach, one who can work with what he had for that year, and not depend on who will come back. The coach that was appointed to the 1987 sophomore football team was Coach Corazzi, and he did an excellent job.

The Sound Of Music

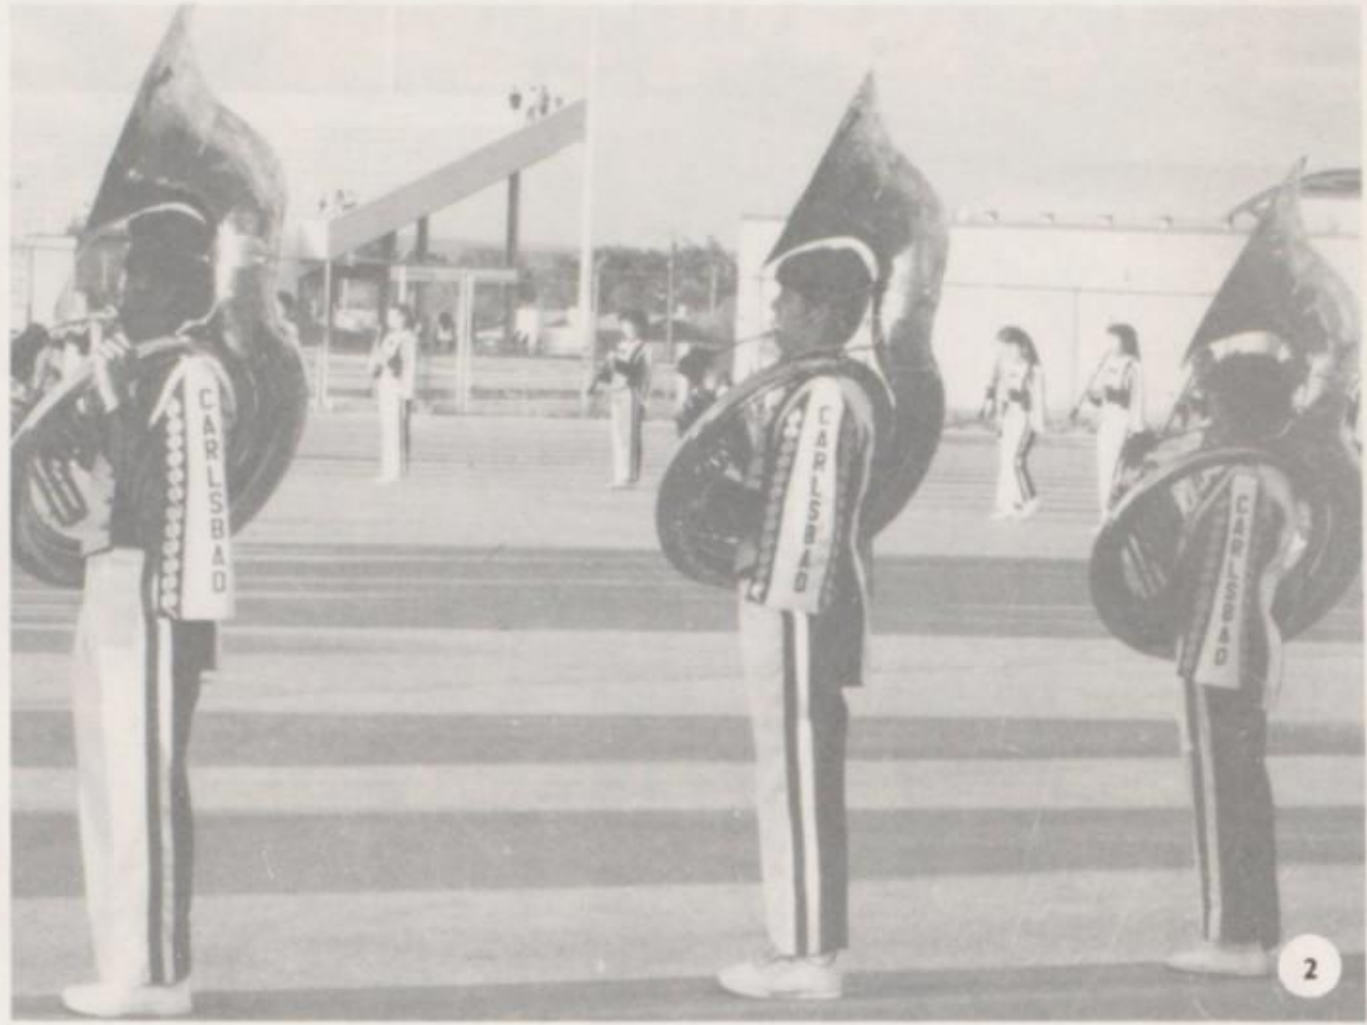

This year the Cavemen Band and Color Guard really had a reason to work hard — they were invited to march in the Independence Day Parade in Washington, D.C. They put in many hours of practice, and raised their own money for the trip. They also took part in local parades and a marching contest. After all this, they still found time to boost school spirit at every football game and pep rally. The band, Color Guard, and Strutt put on many colorful and complicated halftime performances. Congratulations to the Cavemen Band and Color Guard for a job well done!

Robbi's got the beat.

Shannon and Janine are steppin' it off.

Are you lost, Sandra?

Where's Tammy going now?

"The hill again?" "Let's run it backwards to put some excitement into it." "No time to pick flowers today." "Whew, where do the clouds go when you want them?" These were a few of the comments that runners exclaimed during their season. Cross Country took self-discipline, hard work and willingness to do what was told. People called them crazy, stupid and weird. The truth? They may not have liked the cotton mouths, the aching muscles or even the committing it took, but that feeling they got after making those three miles and the toned legs gave them that extra breath to keep it up. The '87-'88 team broadened their horizons this year with a different schedule of meets. They participated in a bigger, faster, but shorter meet in El Paso. Then they showed how tough they were by running in higher altitudes at the Ruidoso meet. "We've lost some of our best runners," said Clark, "but this year everyone is running closer together. We have the speed, but they need to give it 110 per cent."

Soccer, a relatively new sport at CHS, has grown in popularity since it first began. The Cavemen were a strong team this year with five returning varsity lettermen including Angelo Pagano, David Pagano, Larry Sears, Casey Gwinn, and Jesse Fuentes. With Coach Dick Pagano's help, the Cavemen stayed high.

Cavegirls have been together for four years. Returning varsity players include Marilyn Taylor, Carolyn Taylor, Michelle Doyle, Stephanie Nims, Dolly Panagopoulos, Tracy McCarty, Kim Mathis, Caryn Craddock, Michelle Williams, and Lisa London. To achieve their goals the Cavegirls practice every day and work as a team. The short term goal for the Cavegirls is to win district and take State.

Ultra Performance

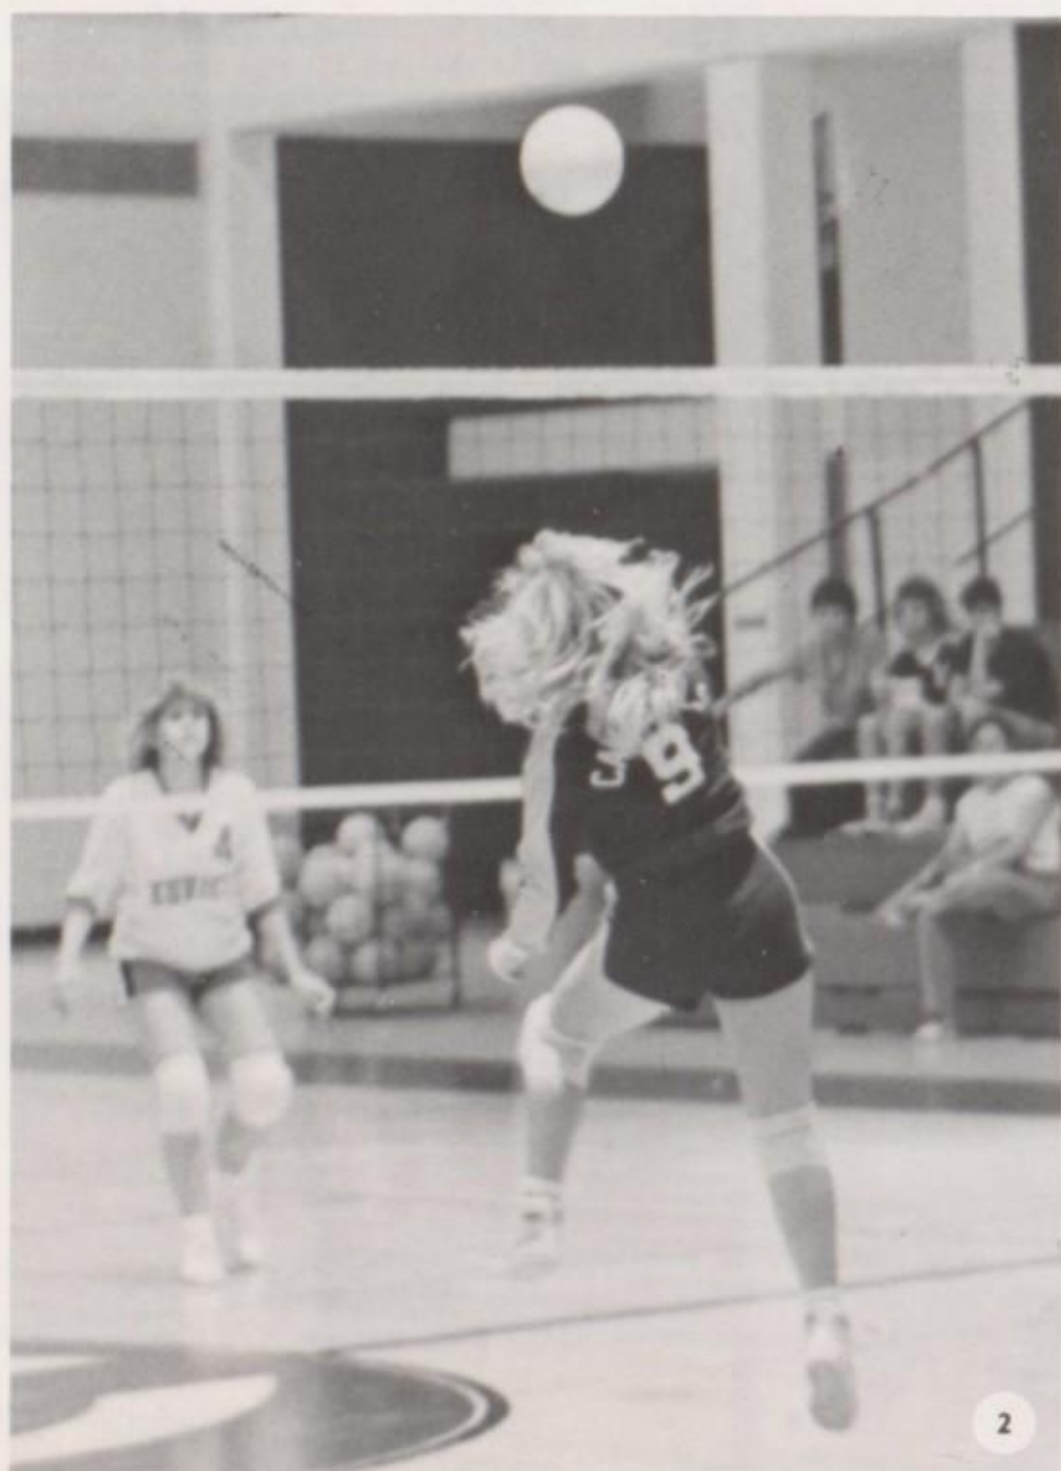

The Cavegirl Volleyball teams were not tall, but they sure were quick. Workouts were spent running - running up the hill, on the track, and in the gym. It was this quickness and team spirit that was responsible for the teams' successes. Coaches Mindy Mendez and Randy Heine made sure their athletes were fit, while team captains Lisa Rice and Cindy Rodriguez kept attitudes in shape as well.

We The People . . .

The Student Council was chosen by fellow students to voice their opinions and feelings on particular issues such as homecoming activities, pep rallies, spring coronation, and special days. They also maintained the CHS Hall of Fame and painted C-Hill. In addition they issued parking permits, sold notebooks and pencils, and acted as a liaison for the students, faculty, and administration.

The Power Of Leadership

The 1987-'88 Rotary Youth Leadership award went out to three deserving students who were selected for their leadership qualities, their grade point averages, and their involvement in school activities. Attending a week-long leadership camp, these young leaders were instructed on interviewing skills, making speeches, and increasing self-esteem. Students from New Mexico and West Texas attended the camp, and many new friendships developed.

Boys and Girls Staters consisted of sixteen students from CHS that were selected by the American Legion. The students were selected for their grade point averages, citizenship, and interest in governmental activities. During the week they held mock elections of public officers, and set up city and state government. Richard Aguilar was elected State Auditor.

(4) Girls Staters were Tammy Gillock, Mary Ellen Acosta, Donna Anaya, Donna Moody, Lisa Rice, and Brenda Lanier. Coaches

P-dunk, P-dunk ... (silence) Iceman throws the ball, swoosh ... buzz. The Cavemen basketball team slamdunks another win for the '87-88 season. This year, they started off fresh, with coach Balzano as their new coach. The guys seem to be adjusting well to the change, and Balzano hoped for a season like that of two years ago when our CHS basketball team shot their way to state.

Getters

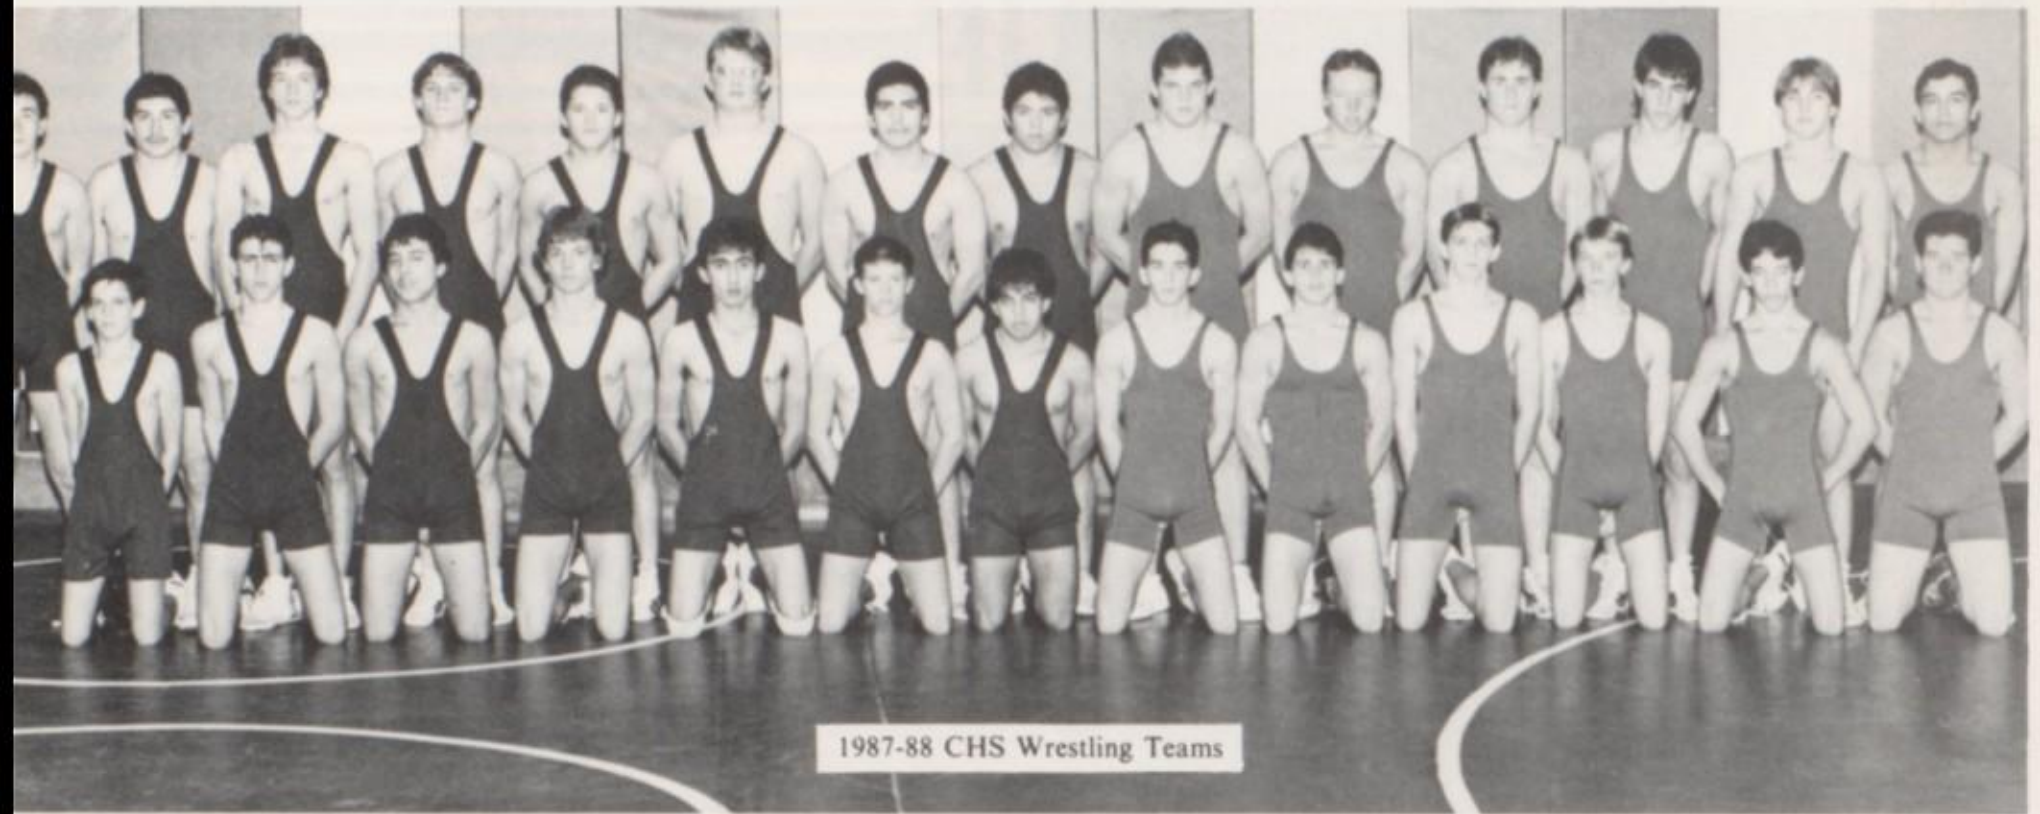

A young inexperienced Cavegirl basketball team entered the Christmas break with a 4-7 record. The Cavegirls hoped for greater success as they headed into district play. In a very competitive district, the Cavegirls were picked to finish near the bottom. However, with determination and desire, the squad wanted to end up with a return trip to Albuquerque.

If you happened to be passing through the girls' gym around late December, you probably heard some strange noises coming from the wrestling room upstairs. These grunts, thumps, yells, and bumps belonged to the CHS wrestlers. Headed by coach Don Owen, the mat men practiced an average of ten hours a week during season. The team was young and inexperienced, but the Cavemen had the talent and competitive spirit needed to give them the edge over their competition.

A new diving team was added to CHS in 1987. This gave the already proven swimmers a chance to show their stuff in another aquatic field. The swim team stayed strong with nine returning lettermen in the boys' division and seven returning Cavegirls. The teams traveled mainly to Texas Invationals receiving various awards and spreading the CHS legend.

Life In The Fast Lane

A Hard Act To Follow

Theater arts classes provided a history of theater and an introduction to the different areas of acting--from pantomime to improvisation to building sets and props for the stage. Later on, students tackled more advanced projects depending on their individual interests--puppetry, radio and television, and directing.

Act Well Your Part . . .

Have you ever wondered where the word "mummers" came from? Mummers were originally groups of people in the Middle Ages who performed for a king's court. At CHS, however, Mummers was a club that anyone in High School could join. They put on several plays during the year and did the lighting for many other events around town and at the High School, including the Honor Society Tapping and Prom. Mummers who worked extra hard and met the requirements were eligible for initiation into the International Thespian Society.

Caveman POW-WOW

If you heard a lot of typing or saw puzzled looks on students coming out of Room 5, you saw Mr. Grimes' 5th hour Pow Wow class. There were many deadlines to meet and many articles to be typed which sometimes resulted in the harried staff as they performed their daily routines trying to get all the things done before the deadline. The Pow Wow, a monthly newspaper, gave us the latest news about sports, classes, teachers, and current events going on at school.

HONOR

The National Honor Society tapping ceremony was one of the highlights of 1987. Being inducted has always been an honor, and this year was no exception. New members as well as old ones participated in activities designed to encourage the development of leadership, scholarship, service and character.

SOCIETY

Under The Big Top

Many girls never realized just how much a guy went through when asking for a date. The anxiety, the fear of rejection, and the expense were all factors girls tended to overlook when they were asked out, until the tables were turned. MORP provided just that situation. Girls asked guys to the dance, took them to dinner, and went through all the pains boys do for that one night. Guys were given the red carpet treatment they so often extended themselves. Everyone enjoyed the change in roles, compliments of Key Club and CHS tradition.

Christmas

1987

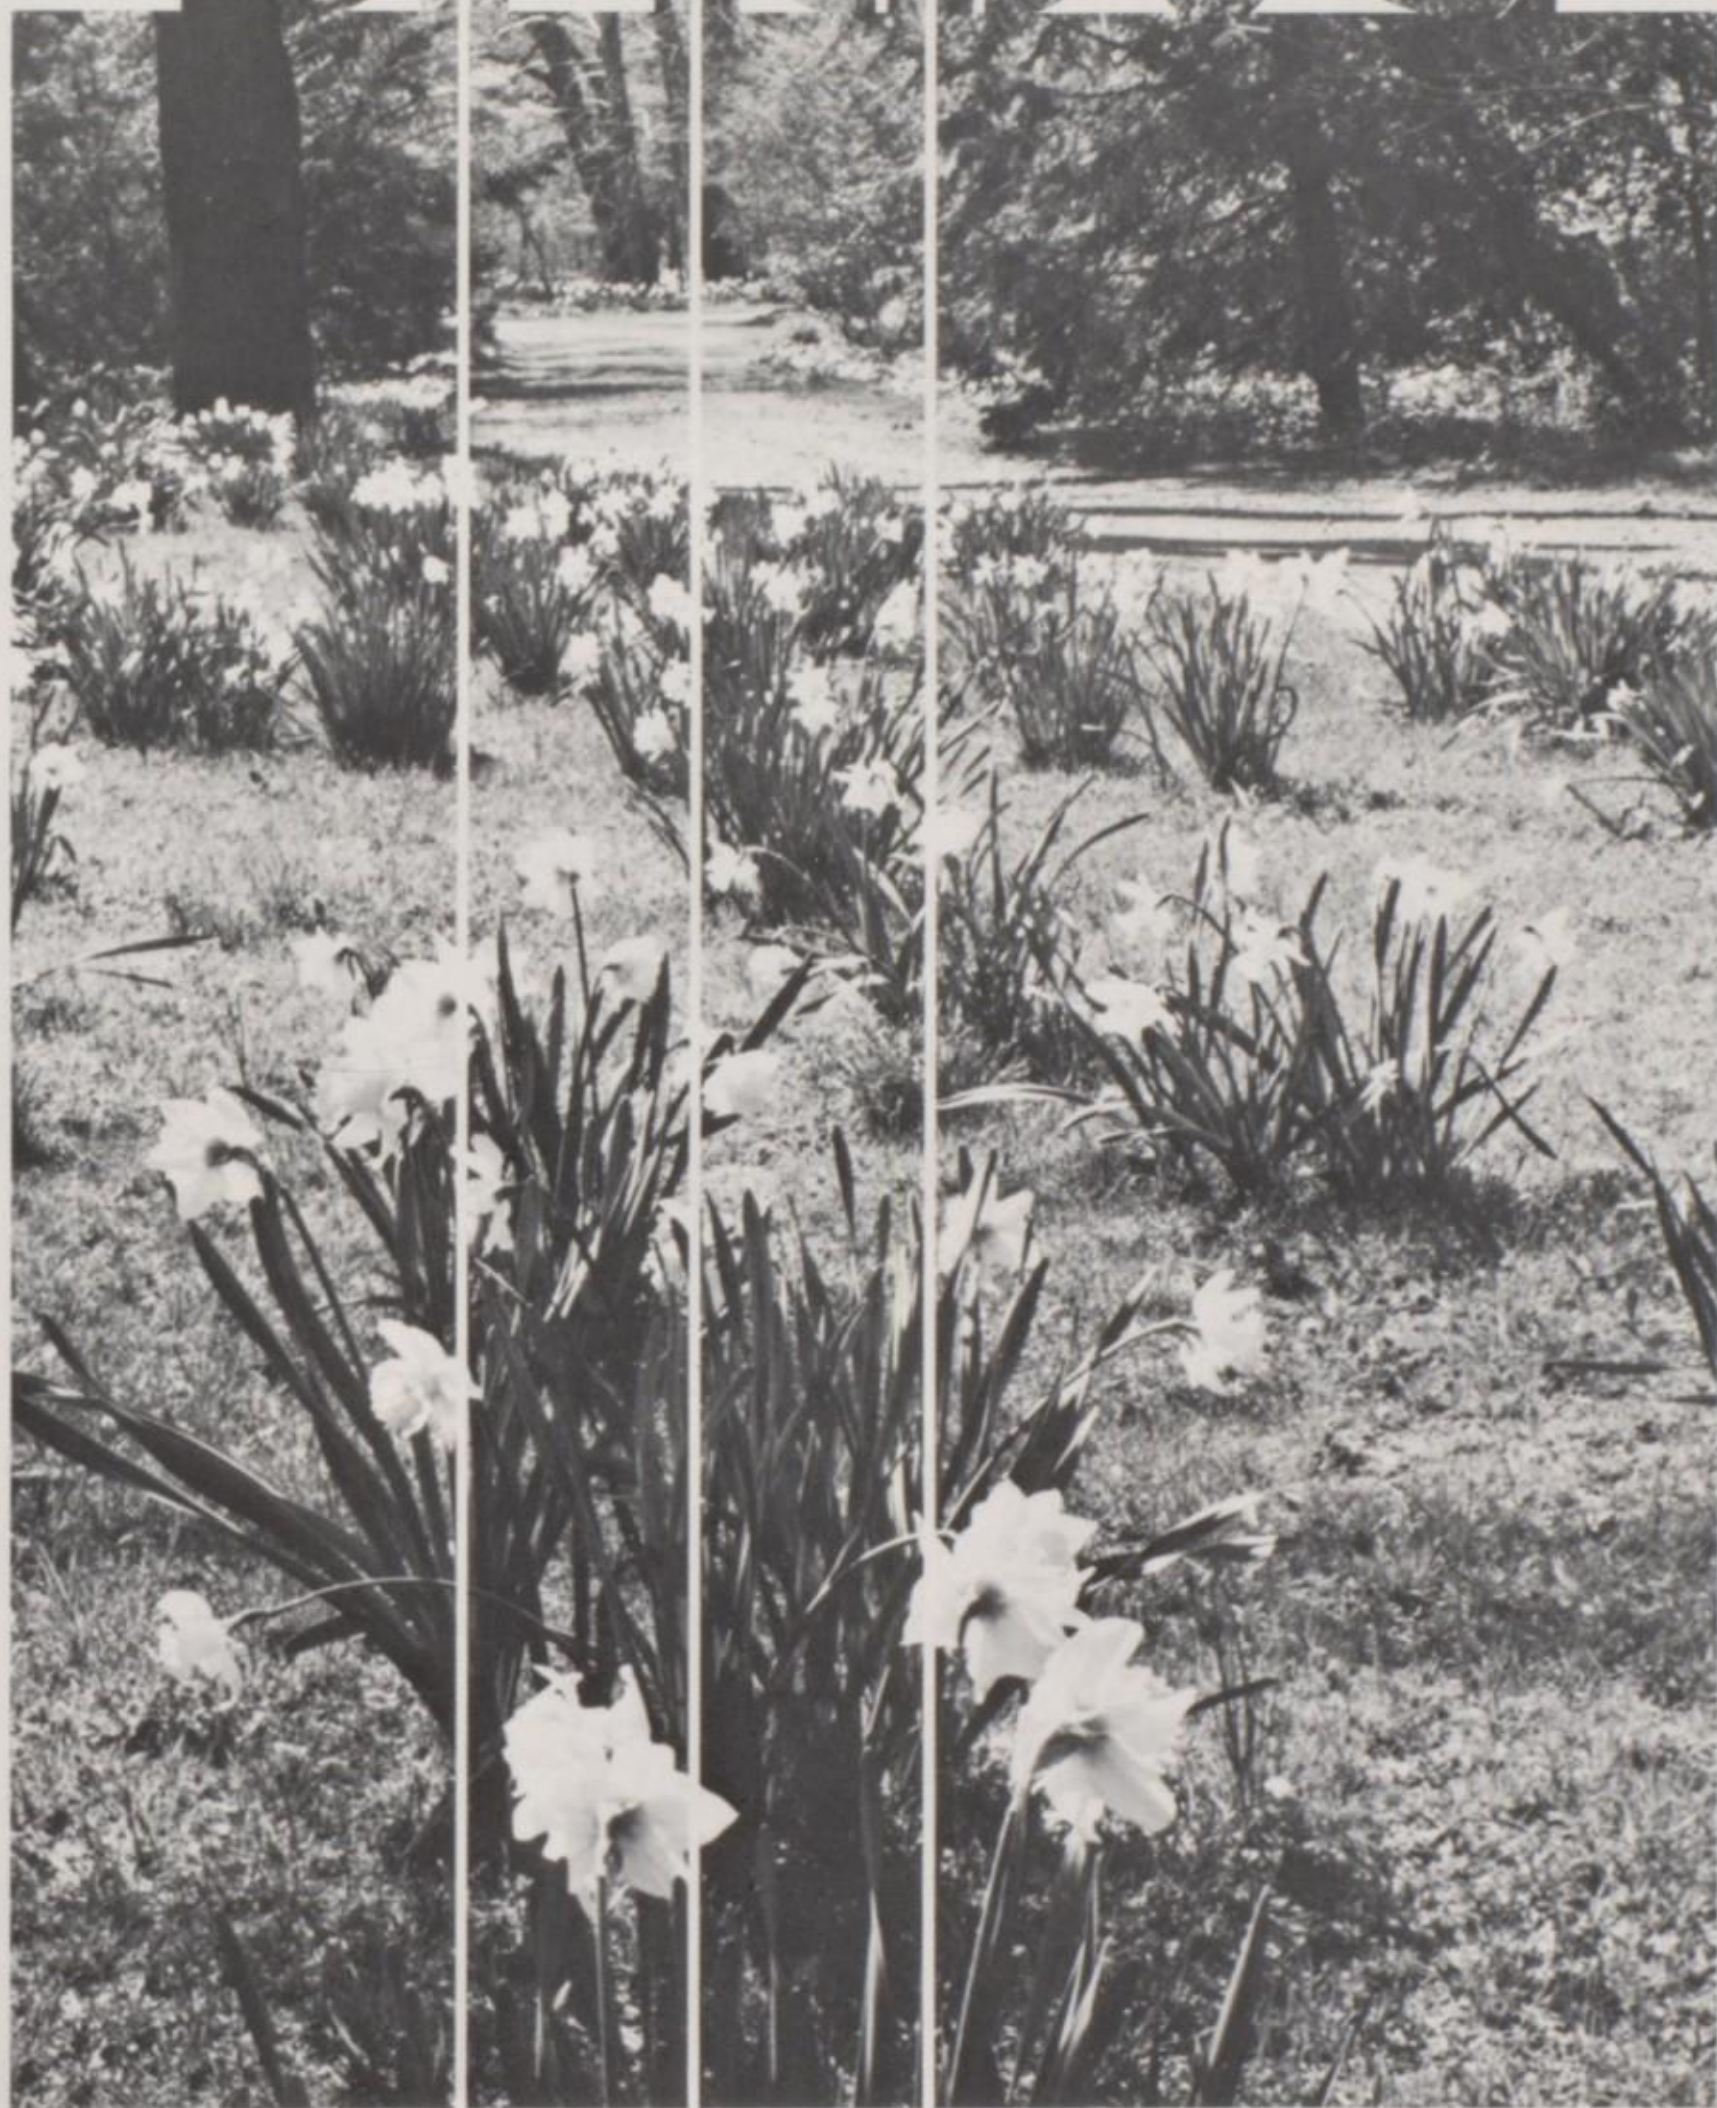

"I'm dreaming of a white Christmas ..."
CHS students dreamed no more. 1987 ended peacefully with land where snow glistened. Setting a 14 inch record in Carlsbad, the snow led the students to miss school on the Monday before break began. As for the rest of the week, students' heads were full of thoughts of snowballs, sliding on ice, and warm fires. They hoped that the 1988 year would be just as calm and bright.

SPRING

With 19 returnees, the Cavegirl Softball Team had the potential to be one of the best ball clubs Head Coach John Tigert had seen in quite awhile. Donna Anaya, a returning starter, was not only senior captain, but was also a 4-year veteran. Senior D.D. Funk was another 4-year veteran along with Carleen Granger, junior captain. Rounding off the list was Cindy Rodriguez, another 4-year ball player. New Mexico recognized Stacey Wood as the Most Valuable Player. The team was confident in their up-and-coming sophomores who assisted the Cavegirls in becoming the State Champs in 1987.

When Performance Counts

The CHS girl's gymnastic team did not consist of any seniors in 1988, but with the help of two returning lettermen, Rhonda Burnett and Annette Cooper, the team performed exceptionally well. According to Coach Ron Woodard, the team was bound for excellence!

(1) Rhonda practiced real hard to be able to point her toes and smile simultaneously. (2) Hurry! Take the Picture! (3) The 1987-'88 girl's gymnastic team was returning letterman Rhonda Burnett, Connie Elmore, Carrie Hoercher, Coach Ron Woodard, returning letterman, Annette Cooper, Stacey Skeen, and Tina Masterson. Shooting For The Green Golfing, the game of patience, practice, frustration and triumph. This year there were four returning lettermen on the varsity team; Jeff Young, Jason Schwein, Nina Desai, and Kelly Nations. The team in general was a very young one and because of this, it was to be difficult to qualify for state. Gaining the experience needed, the years ahead will surely prove rewarding.

Sprinters

Hurdlers

Some girls run their hose, and some just run their heart out. These girls have a passion for pain, and everyday they fulfill that desire. "Running over" the competition last year, the '88 girls track team suffered from graduating seniors, but they had a good group of girls who came up this year that Coach Leon Clark thought would help fill the gap. Their strong areas were in long distance and the mile relay. "Our girls could be very competitive. It just depends on how badly they want it, and how hard they are willing to push themselves," said Clark.

Tracksters

Running . . . it's more than just putting one foot in front of the other. The key is to have the desire to improve, to achieve, and to win. Tracksters compete against others, the odds, and their endurance. This year, the 1988 boys' track team had tough competition, but they aimed for high district placing. The cream of the crop were the long distance runners due to the previous Cross Country season.

Dedicated To Action

The 1988 Cavemen baseball team were defending district 4-AAAA Champions and had a good chance of being #1 again this year because there were eleven returning lettermen. They broke the ice by winning their first quarter-finalist game. To be a champion, you had to totally dedicate yourself to a goal. Time, energy, and effort went into the Cavemen's goal of winning. Kevin Lallman defined baseball as blood, sweat, and tears.

Point,

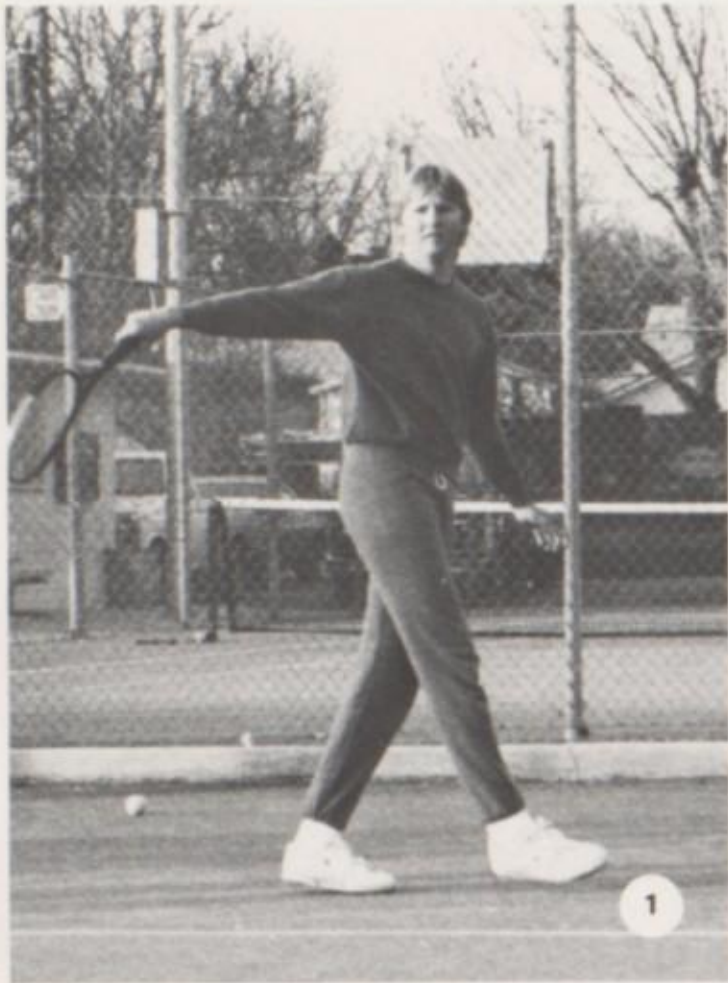

The CHS tennis teams had a lot to live up to in 1988. The Cavegirls went for their sixth consecutive district win lead by two-time State champion Carol Westfall and returning lettermen Kim Garcia, Robin Aragon, Katy Estrada, and Heather Barber. Despite their lack of returning lettermen support, the Cavemen tried to hang on to their district title for the second year in a row. Top varsity boys included Kevin Black, Darren Bustos, Bill Pike, Amos Balderrama, and Robin Rowell.

The Year In

Being on the Echo staff required five virtues from each and every member: Teamwork, a loud voice, a good memory, a strong stomach, and a deep sense of pride. Teamwork came in between a photographer and a staff member. He got the pictures on time, you made the layout and did not forget the photo credit. The loud voice usually was needed to convince that same photographer that those pictures were needed now, and no, deadline was not next week, it was today. Memory had its own special meaning on the staff. Remember the next deadline, remember to make the photo assignment, remember to be at the photo assignment, remember Mrs. C's birthday is next week, buy her a doughnut. The strong stomach . . . It was perhaps the single most important thing to an Echo staffer. How could you make the next deadline if you were laid up in the hospital with an ulcer from the last one? Pride came naturally when you got your first look at the book and thought, "This is the best yearbook ever!"

Music Just Met Its Masters

Through many long and hard hours the Troubadors were able to go to All-State, go to the 4th Annual "Celebration" Variety show, and in April to the Astro World Choral Festival in Houston, competing in National competition. The Troubadors, for the last 3 years, were rated first in the state, and this year were rated second in state.

In a period of twenty-five years, CHS has seen many changes. For starters, the staff of CSHS (as it was called in 1963) consisted of 48 faculty members, two guidance personnel (one full-time and one part-time), a principal and a vice-principal, a senior class advisor and a junior class advisor (each also taught classes), no teacher aides, one full-time secretary to the principal and vice-principal, one registrar, one attendance secretary, and five custodians.

In 1987-'88 changes were still going on. The school day was lengthened in order to meet the required number of hours by the New Mexico State Legislature. People we saw more of, thanks to the new bell schedule, were the teachers! Recognition was what these dedicated individuals deserve.

The Aware Program is designed for school-age mothers to continue their education and earn their high school diploma. The program provides an environment conducive to having these young mothers return to school. In addition to regular high school course offerings in the basics, the Craft Campus offers such classes as typing, general business and computer operation.

(1) "Do I have to eat what I cook?" asks Cheryl. (2) Jennifer Galindo, Gina Sanchez, Valerie Franco, Tracy McFadden, Cheryl Amos, and Yvonne Villa discuss General Business. Your long life ended way too soon; Like a night cloud brushing across the moon.

Your smile in our minds will shine forever,
And in our hearts our love will die for you never.

Our hearts go out to you this year.
We finally made it; we wish you were here.

There's one more thing we have to say;
We miss you, Jason, in every way.

CLASSES

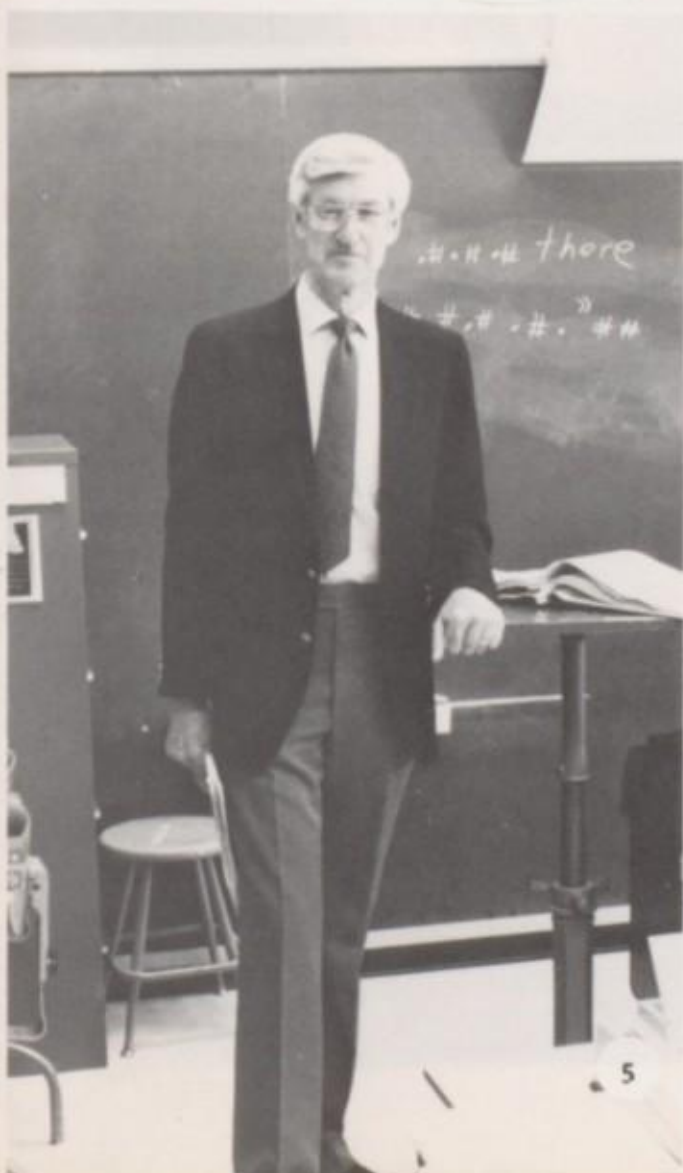

Because Time Goes By

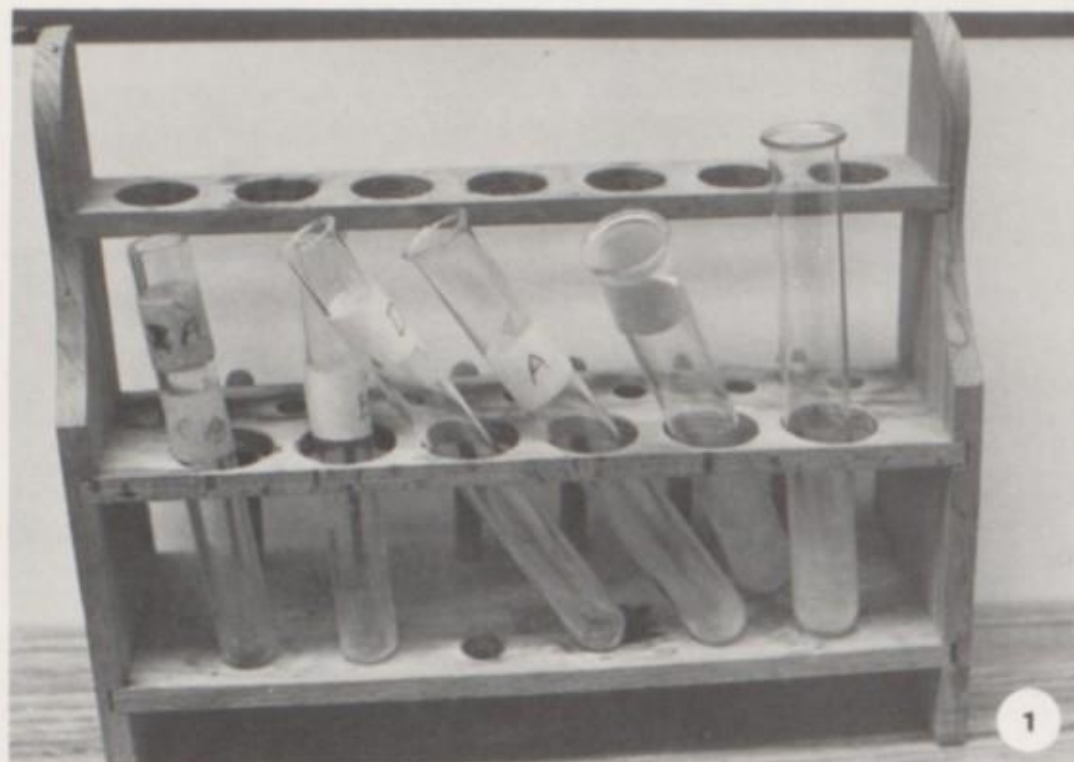

When students reported on the first day of school for the 1962-63 school year to Carlsbad Senior High School (as it was named then), the campus looked much different than it looked to students who reported for the 1987-88 school year. For one thing there were fewer students. Only seniors and juniors attended CSHS until a few years ago. There were 409 seniors and 505 juniors listed in the 1963 Echo. Not only were there fewer students, but also there were fewer electives and required course offerings in the curriculum. Students then, however, took more electives because there were fewer required courses for graduation. At that time a larger percentage of students were involved in school activities and showed great enthusiasm for all facets of school life. Students exhibited more interest in learning for learning's sake rather than just for a grade. Student behavior was less of a problem — possibly because discipline was very strict. Yes, many changes have taken place during these past 25 years at CHS — many of them for the better. The facilities have greatly expanded, curriculum has changed, discipline has changed, and the faculty has changed. Of the original 48 faculty members who began the 1962-63 school year, I am the only one still teaching at CHS. The others have moved, retired, changed occupations, or died. I wish Carlsbad Senior High School a happy 25th Anniversary and best wishes for the future.

— G.C. Thompson

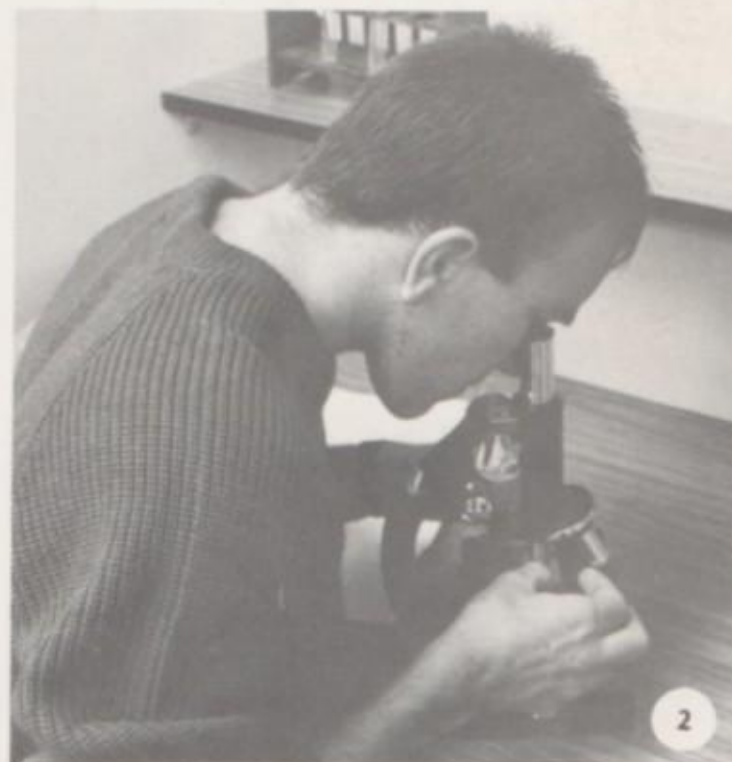

The 1963 graduates of Carlsbad High School who taught in 1987-88 were (1.) Bernadette Brininstool (2.) Dan LaClair (3.) Rich Mattson (4.) Bobby Click (5.) Mr. G.C. Thompson, teacher at CHS since 1963. (6.) Mr. LaClair with his 1957 Chevy. (7.) Mr. Mattson helping win one for the Cavemen.

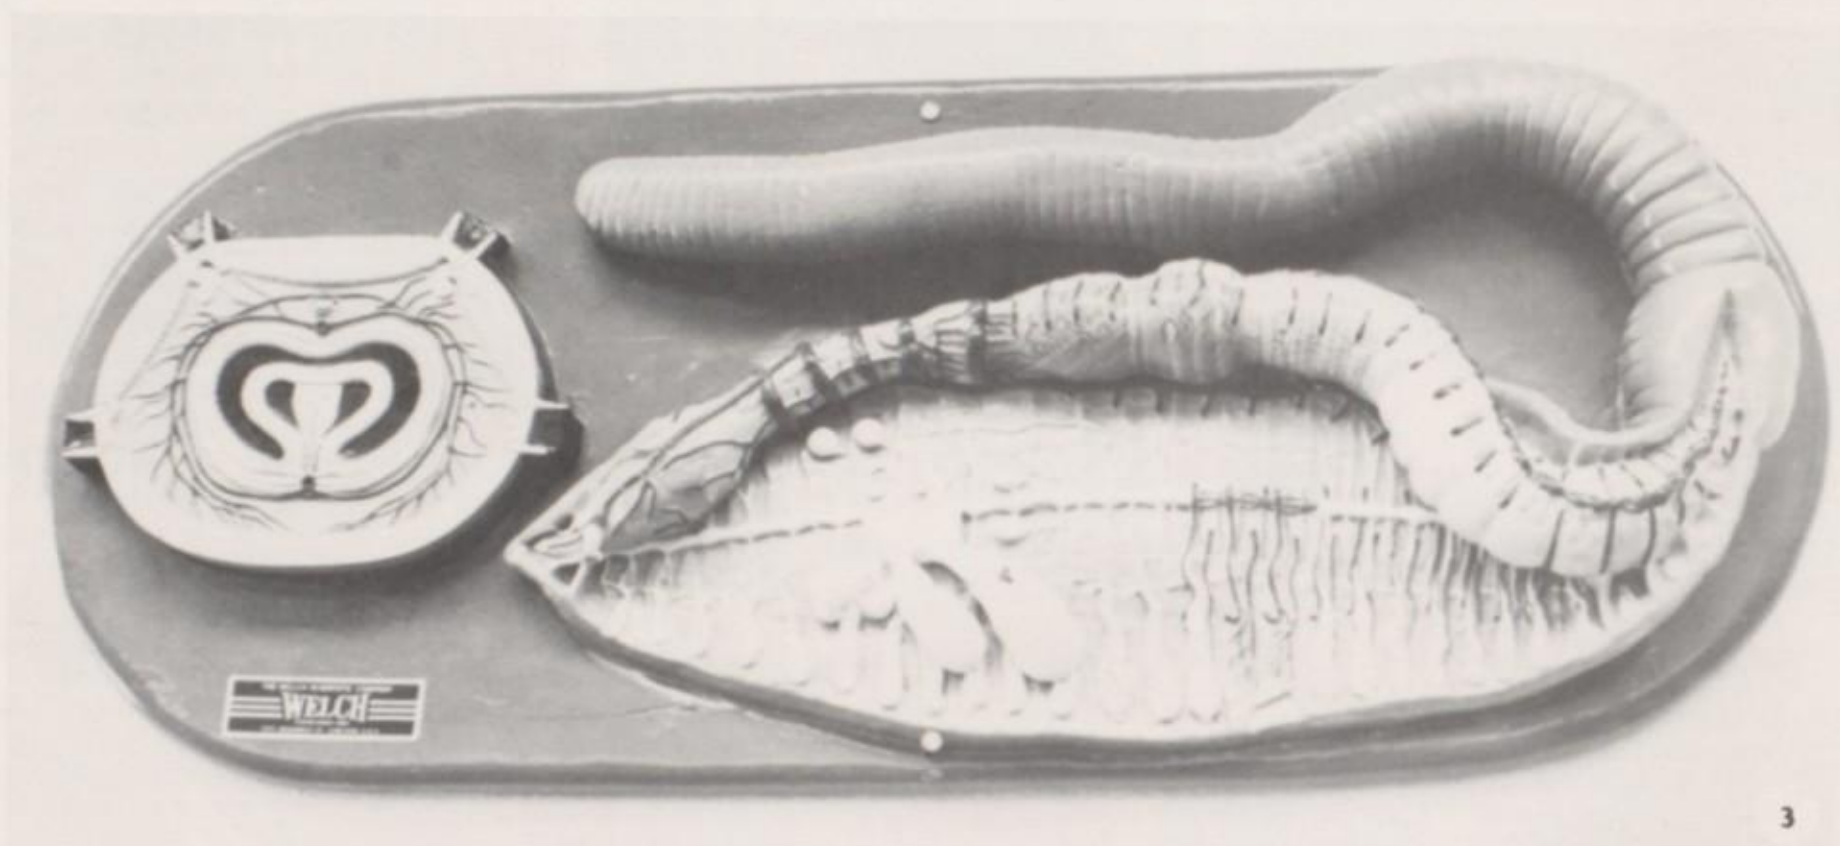

BIOLOGY II

Biology II, an elective at CHS taught by Mr. Joe Schiel and Mr. Doug Lynn, offered the opportunity to understand life processes in a deeper way. For those who thought biology was their life calling, then they were a part of Biology II Club which put to use what they accumulated in class. So if you were into life processes and understanding life then you took Biology II.

If early Roman life was all "Greek" to you, then you weren't in Latin Club. Under the sponsorship of Mary Aldorfer, members learned about Roman life, history, and mythology. Not only did they learn about it, they were able to experience it by attending a Latin convention late in the year. Members also held holiday parties and participated in school activities such as the homecoming parade.

Cultivating New Fields Of Interest

The purpose of FFA was to develop leadership, citizenship, and cooperation in the area of agriculture. However, members learned about a lot more than just farming. During the year, they learned skills like welding, meat processing, public speaking and parliamentary procedure. They were involved in crop, meat and wildlife judging, and livestock shows including the county fair. They also participated in community service projects, such as helping put up the downtown Christmas decorations. Even when school was out they didn't slow down. Delegates from the FFA attended a state convention in Las Cruces, and leadership camp in the Sacramento Mountains. Last but not least, they found time for fun, with dances and parties throughout the year.

All In A Day's Work

The ICT work program helped seniors get started on a career while still in high school. Students spent half a day on the job, working in the field of their choice, and half a day in school, where they received training in how to get along and interact with people on the job, and also in technical knowledge. Participation in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was also a part of ICT.

Distributed Education Clubs Of America

Under the supervision of Cheryl Essex, DECA students learned the meaning of the real world. The students were "distributed" among different businesses of Carlsbad to gain valuable work experience. Whether it was in reference to handling money or in getting along with people, these students learned important skills to aid them in the future.

DECA

"Working nine to five . . ." That is what the girls in O.E.A. did. They went to school half a day and worked the other half, and learned certain qualities to being a good leader in school and in the society. It was not all work — they had fun too. Throughout the year they attended leadership conferences in Albuquerque, went to competition and had holiday parties. Office Education Association is one of the vocational programs at CHS. It helps one to be a leader of tomorrow.

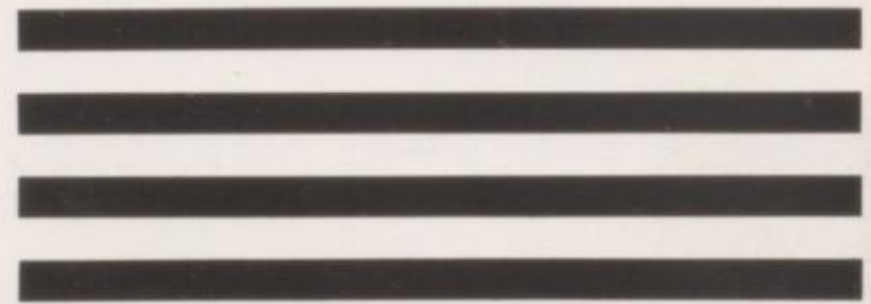

(1) 1987-88 O.E.A. members: (Top Row) T. Martin, B. Baker, V. Tyson, S. Manley, A. Tubb, J. Garrett, K. Brock, M. Reid, M. Molinar, S. Barnes, K. Pelletier, S. Michel, S. Allen, B. Barnes, D. Fraire. (Middle Row) Sponsor Jean Loafman, K. Vaughn, L. Thompson, A. Shirley, A. Mobley, J. Smith, A. Navarette, S. Perkins, C. Taylor, P. Hernandez, Y. Navarete, M. Foster, S. Sutphen, T. Davis. (Bottom Row) S. Munoz, P. Hernandez, G. Bryant, L. Bibby, P. Salcido, P. Fuentz, J. Rojo, T. Dean, C. Pineda, A. Jazo, T. Dumars, R. Aragon, S. Campbell and T. Boes. (2) Sponsor, Jean Loafman. (3) Officers: Treasurer, Pam Salcido; Vice-President, Tina Dean; President, Carla Pineda; Secretary, Alice Jazo; Junior Vice-Presidents, Audrey Navarette and Jessica Rojo. (4) A moment of splashing scenery. (5) Carla seems a little terrified. (6) A cozy dinner for five. (7) It looks like this job is lots of fun. Nobody Beats Us

Through the 1987-88 school year, you probably saw students from Mrs. Mattson's Environmental Design Class and Art III Class working on posters, the Senior Rock, Homecoming assembly decorations and, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom.

Art And Soul

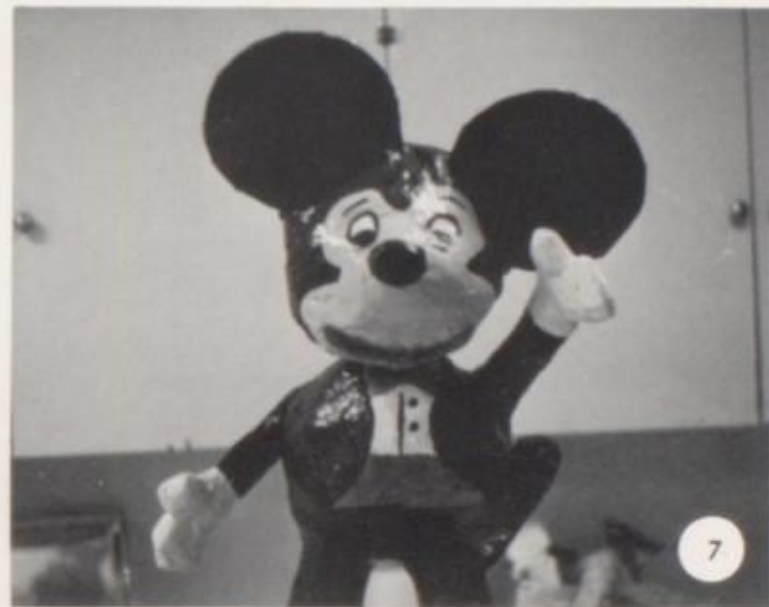

Ever thought about a career in art or just developing your creativity? Art students found an outlet for their creative energy in a variety of projects such as drawing, painting, and sculpting. The results of their work were seen all around campus in coffee mugs, T-shirts, and posters. Students taking crafts worked with plastics, leather, and clay. Those in drafting concentrated more on exact, realistic drawings — from nuts and bolts to entire houses.

Because Quality Matters

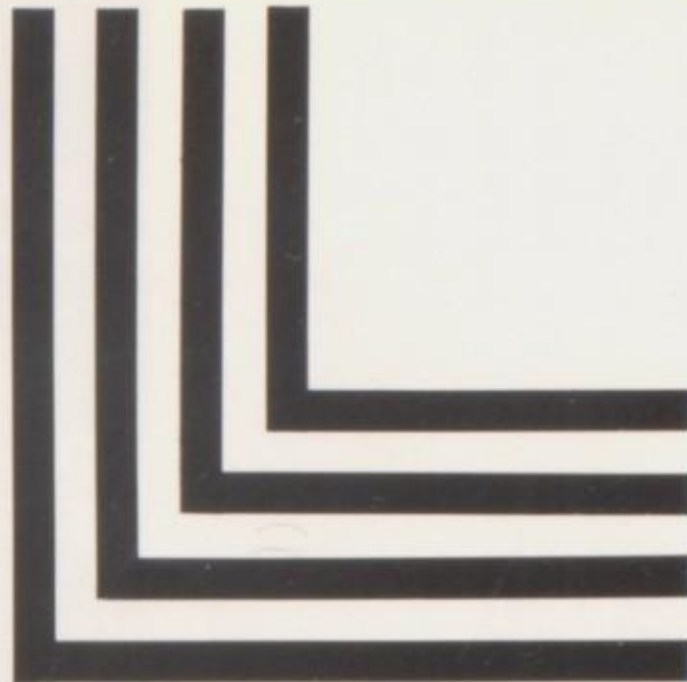

Lots of sparks, ink, and sawdust is what students saw in the welding, printing, and woods classes. Welding, taught by Mr. Ballard, offered the opportunity to learn basic skills and different processes in welding. Printing, taught by Mr. Higgins, offered the opportunity to print using a letterpress and a chance to do some photography. Woods, taught by Mr. Jojola, offered the opportunity to work with basic and complex tools to create wood projects.

Our Bodies, Our Cars

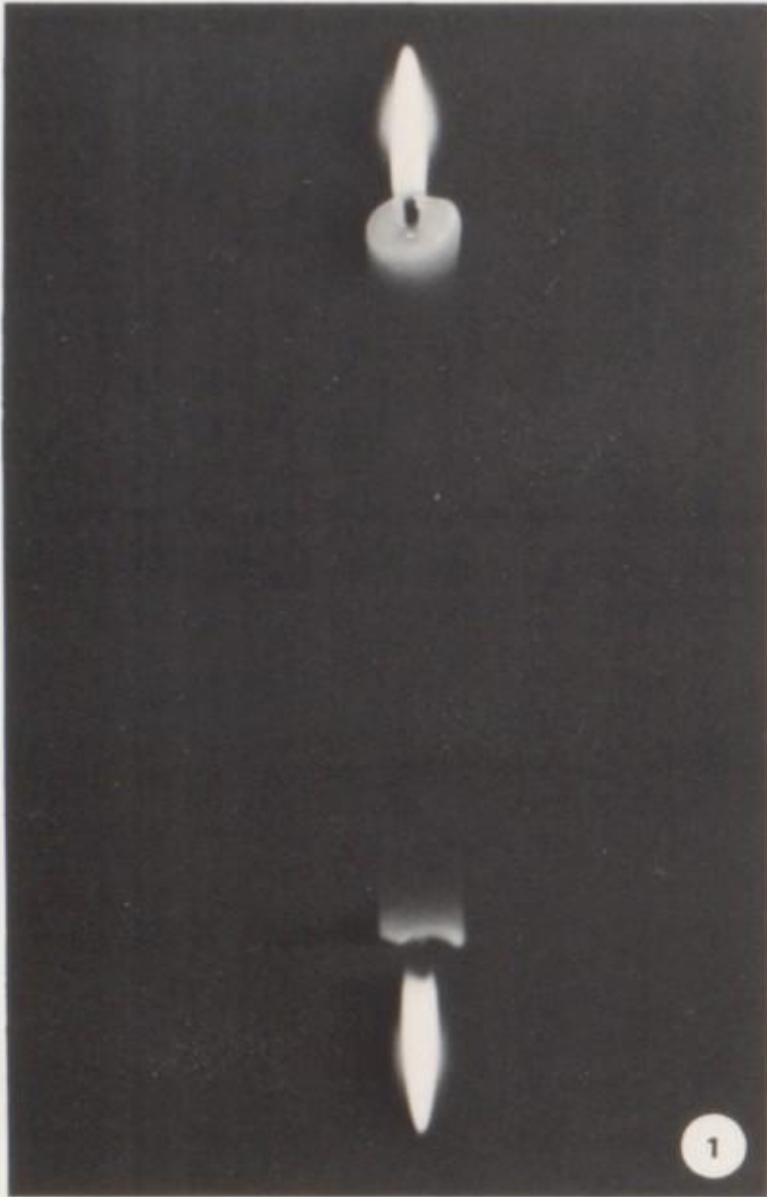

If your car was bent out of shape, or you needed a tune-up you saw Mr. Vinka (Auto-body) and Mr. Owens (Auto Mechanics). Mr. Vinka and his crew made your car look like a car by pounding out the dents or by giving it a new paint job. Mr. Owens and his crew made your car sound like a car by tuning your engine or by giving it an oil change. These classes offered a skill you could use for a lifetime.

Shutterstud Pics

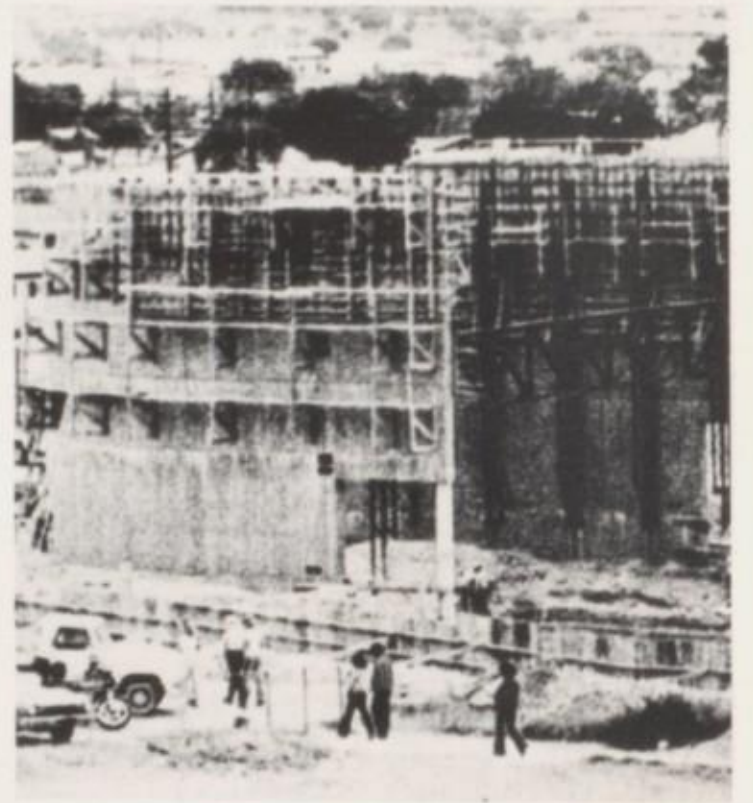

Bzz . . . Snap! Gotcha! Are these sounds familiar? Every year while the CHS students are running around trying to be unnoticed, the sneaky ECHO staff photographers are catching those unforgettable moments. This page was designed to let their imagination run wild, and for them to finally do things the way they wanted.

Pictures 1, 2, and 6 were taken by Tony Dominguez. Pictures 3 and 4 were taken by Sergio Holguin, picture 5 was taken by Colin Grimes.

LOOKING

THROUGH THE YEARS

The busy days of school life have finally come to an end.
 Some will start a new beginning while others will just ascend.
 We have no more cares and fears caused by testing dread;
 But little do we realize
 just what is up ahead.
 It's time to lead a fuller life;
 our deed is finally done.
 Whenever our fears catch up to us,
 we'll remember our "high school fun"
 The seniors will scatter like the wind while juniors still await.
 We will grow together separately in hopes to meet again by fate.
 As the years go drifting by
 and we prove ourselves to be,
 We will think back to CHS
 and all our memories!
